1 Introduction

A conflict of interest can be defined as a situation where an individual or employee, or the organisation he/she represents or has an interest in, has a direct or indirect competing interest with SFBF's activities. This competing interest may result in the individual being in a position to benefit from the situation or it may prevent the company from being able to achieve a result in its best interest, or both. A conflict of interest for SFBF also includes conduct which is not in keeping with its core values and principles.

The purpose of this Conflict of Interest Policy (the "Policy") is to establish arrangements necessary to discover, disclose, prevent, manage and reduce conflicts of interest to ensure that STIBOR is determined independently and without undue influence. In order to meet this, the Policy shall establish a standard of conduct and internal processes to ensure that all employees in the Swedish Financial Benchmark Facility (the "SFBF" or the "Company"), and its service providers act in the best interests of SFBF. Further, this Policy aims to ensure that information related to conflicts of interests that is reported to SFBF or is compiled by SFBF is handled confidentially unless it is subject to specific disclosure requirements, and to mitigate conflicts of interest due to SFBF's ownership and control in relation to determining STIBOR.

This Policy is also intended to enhance public confidence in the integrity of SFBF. SFBF benefits from the expertise of individuals with a multiplicity of interests, however, those interests must not conflict with the interests of SFBF nor impair the public confidence necessary for the business operations of SFBF which is to ensure the administration of STIBOR pursuant to the provisions in the BMR.

Employees must be aware of and support the fundamental business principles of SFBF of neutrality and impartiality in all their endeavours and fully comply with the provisions set in this Policy.

2 Scope

This Policy shall be applied in relation to all parts of SFBF's business and applies to the employees of SFBF, third-party Service Providers, members of the Oversight Committee, members of the Board of Directors of SFBF (the "Board"), any Committees established, and their personal and professional relationships both internally and externally with stakeholders.

3 Governance and control mechanisms

3.1 Fundamental aspects of governance

SFBF has in place robust governance arrangements which include a clear organisational structure with well-defined, transparent, and consistent roles and responsibilities as further outlined in the Company's roles and responsibility documentation. By having robust governance arrangement, SFBF identifies, prevent and manage conflicts of interest between itself, employees or any person directly or indirectly linked to them by control, contributors or users, and ensures that, where any judgement or discretion in the STIBOR determination process is required, it is independently and honestly exercised.

In accordance with the BMR, and for the avoidance of doubt, no employee who is directly involved in the provision of STIBOR may have any interests or business connections that compromise the activities of SFBF.

3.2 Organisation and responsibilities

SFBF operates with a clear segregation of roles and responsibilities to mitigate conflicts of interest. This is done by having an organisation with an outlined responsibility. General roles and responsibilities are described in SFBF Roles and Responsibilities which is the document that provides a comprehensive description of all SFBF positions. Specific responsibilities for this Policy are provided below:

The Board

The Board has the ultimate responsibility for SFBF's business operations and the overall responsibility for the internal control. As part of this responsibility, the Board must ensure a good internal control environment and establish adequate governing documents on identification and handling of conflicts of interest in line with the business strategy and values. The Board may appoint a preparatory body that may make investigations in relation to identified potential conflicts of interest and propose appropriate actions. The Board shall act in compliance with this Policy and is responsible for adopting this Policy and monitoring the implementation of it. The Board also reviews and approves the annual revisions of this Policy. The Board is responsible for disclosing any potential or actual Conflict of Interest in accordance with BMR.

CEO

The CEO, as the person with the overall responsibility for the business management of SFBF, is responsible for ensuring that this Policy remains in compliance with the regulatory requirements, as applicable from time to time and that there are adequate resources available to maintain the Policy and ensure that the company is able to fulfil the requirements of this Policy.

Compliance 1st Line of Defence (LoD)

Compliance 1st LoD is responsible for enquiries, declarations, documentation, reviews and initial investigations related to conflicts of interests. Compliance 1st LoD shall review all disclosures and determine whether or not the disclosed conflict constitutes a conflict of interest in accordance with this Policy. Compliance 1st LoD is responsible for advising stakeholders, maintaining, monitoring, and implementing this Policy.

Employees

All SFBF employees including sub-contractors, consultants or any natural person whose services are placed at SFBFs disposal or under the control of SFBF as well as service providers must take responsibility for complying with this Policy and shall continuously identify and internally report existing and potential conflicts of interest as they may rise.

3.3 Group arrangements

SFBF is part of a group which is controlled by the Swedish Bankers' Association (SBA). Being part of a group may indicate specific conflicts of interests, or risks of conflicts of interests, due to the group structure, intra group personnel having multiple functions or tasks within the different parts of the group, or persons within the group management having interests not fully compatible with the best interest of SFBF. In line with the provisions in BMR, the provision of STIBOR is operationally separated from any part of the SFBF's business that may create an actual or potential conflict of interest.

Additionally, in order to identify and mitigate potential conflicts of interest arising from the group structure SFBF has specific governance arrangements in place with clear lines of responsibility for identifying and managing the risks of conflicts of interests. Specific conflicts of interests due to the group and management are also identified in the Conflicts of Interest Register where mitigating actions are inserted.

SFBF also has procedures in place to ensure that information between the group is not shared (e.g. by having non-disclosure agreements with all relevant staff as part of the employment contracts and training regarding sharing of sensitive information). SFBF employees are physically and logically separated from other personnel and functions within the group and SFBF premises and equipment have restricted access mechanisms to control and monitor access. Ensuring that there are clear separations between the groups different entities minimises the risk of conflicts of interests occurring due to unauthorised sharing of information.

Further, the STIBOR Panel Bank Code of Conduct mitigates conflicts of interest that may arise due to SFBF's ownership or control (since the SBA is being ultimately controlled by the Panel Banks). An example of such a conflict could be if stakeholders of SBA (Panel Banks) have interests which are not in line with the best interests of STIBOR and SFBF due to the heavy regulated environment, due to financial and resource restraints, or, due to other interests in the company group or as a result of other persons that may exercise influence or control over SFBF in relation to determining STIBOR.

Embedded control mechanisms deemed to reduce the risk of conflicts of interests, and to mitigate the risk of realisation of conflicts of interests, including those that may arise due to the group structure, are found in the first line of defence where conflicts of interests may be identified, and by the second line of defence in its monitoring and review responsibility.

3.4 Control mechanisms

SFBF's relations with contributors and service providers are governed by various control mechanisms. For example, SFBF has in place a STIBOR Panel Bank Code of Conduct for contributors which outlines the responsibilities of the contributors which are overseen by the OC.

In regard to the determination of STIBOR and unjust influence SFBF has established dedicated control mechanisms.

4 Policy application and process

4.1 Conflict of interest declaration

Before or upon assuming their official duties, SFBF employees and contractors shall read this Policy and declare that they have read it and agree to abide by it. This includes declaring in writing any perceived, potential, or actual conflicts of interests. Employees are required to update their declaration when there are changes or at least annually.

4.2 Conflict of interest process

The Company has established a process for the identification and handling of new and existing conflicts of interest. The process includes the below steps.

- Assessment, handling and documentation
- Reporting and disclosure
- Monitoring and control

4.2.1 IDENTIFICATION

SFBF, including employees and the Board, shall continuously identify circumstances or conditions that constitute or may give rise to conflicts of interest that entail a significant risk that the interests of SFBF, stakeholders or users will be adversely affected. Compliance 1st LoD shall, at least annually or when necessary, initiate a training session with relevant people to evaluate the business in order to identify existing and potential conflicts of interest and determine how to handle them. Both new and existing SFBF employees shall take part in such a training. Trainings and a participation log are registered in the conflicts of interest register.

If an employee is unsure whether a situation constitutes a conflict of interest, they should confer with Compliance 1st LoD. In addition to this, under the Whistleblowing Policy, all employees are able to raise concerns, including potential conflicts and breaches of this Policy.

4.2.2 ASSESSMENT, HANDLING AND DOCUMENTATION

Identified, existing or potential conflicts of interest must be reported immediately to the Compliance 1st LoD. In all cases of disclosure, the Head of Risk and Compliance (2nd LoD) will perform a risk analysis and present the findings to the Board through the Quarterly Risk and Compliance Report. The Board or any of its appointed preparatory bodies shall question whether or not identified potential conflicts of interest can be managed by mitigating actions, or whether it needs to be resolved. If identified conflicts of interest cannot be adequately managed, the Board shall see to it that SFBF either cease the activities or relationships that create the conflict of interest.

All declared conflicts of interests are documented in the conflict of interest register, together with the mitigating actions and potential external disclosure. The Compliance 1st LoD is responsible for the documentation.

4.2.3 REPORTING AND DISCLOSURE

SFBF shall publish or disclose all declared existing or potential conflicts of interest to users of STIBOR, to the Swedish FSA and, where relevant, to contributors, including conflicts of interest arising from the ownership or control of SFBF. The Swedish FSA will be informed of new conflicts in connection with regular compliance reporting, or whenever a new conflict is identified, as appropriate. In the event that a public disclosure takes place, SFBF will publish the conflict of interest on its website.

Regardless of whether the breach is disclosed to an external party, there may be implications for the conflicted employee, such as further training or disciplinary measures. It shall here be noted that all information that is reported to SFBF or compiled by SFBF is handled pursuant to confidentiality in all cases where disclosure is not required.
